What Would You Do With $1 Million?

There's $1 million available in your community for improvements like parks, school repairs, transportation, and more. And you decide how it will be used!

Participatory Budgeting is a new and different way to make decisions about publicly funded projects in your neighborhood. Community members – like you – propose projects and vote on which ones get included in the City budget.

If you want to propose a project for your community, or find out more, come to a Neighborhood Assembly.
